

BSc Biological Sciences degree programme

C

Duration of the Degree

The BSc Biological Sciences degree takes three years to complete. Each year consists of three terms, with winter, spring and summer holiday periods. The degree will be taught at the RVC's Camden Campus.

Methods of Teaching

The degree will be delivered through lectures and seminars with an emphasis on small-group teaching and laboratory practical work. We utilise blended teaching modes of delivery to accommodate the needs of all our students.

Although most in-person teaching is at the Camden Campus, there may be some teaching at our Hawkshead Campus. The course will involve investigative project work made up of a group project in the second year and an individual project in the third year.

Accreditation

BSc Biological Sciences has been awarded Accreditation by the Royal Society of Biology.

You will also have the option to undertake a placement year. The industry-based placement involves an additional year based at an employer where you can focus on developing workplace skills and industry expertise that will sit alongside the knowledge you gain throughout your course. Please note that you will need to find your own placement, but support and guidance will be given, as well as tutorial support throughout your placement year.

Tuition fee of placements/sandwich year: £1,850.

Teaching Staff at RVC

All teaching staff at RVC are fully qualified to teach at Higher Education level. Most staff are involved in research as well as teaching and hold research qualifications. You will find biographical details on all members of staff on the RVC website. Staff will teach by means of lectures, seminars and practicals and work with students in tutorial groups.
